

State RtI Web Resources

This is a listing of States web resources retrieved on June 1, 2007 from the Regional Resource and Federal Center Network at <http://www.rrfcnetwork.org>. Many schools and districts are already using a type of problem solving or RtI process to address school improvement and improve instruction for all students.

Link	State	Description of Resources
http://www.arizonarti.net/	Arizona	Arizona is implementing a training project on RtI. The Web site is somewhat challenging to navigate as it is a workspace for district staff, and thus has many password-controlled areas. Following the RtI Materials button on the left will take you to two PowerPoint presentations on the project and training materials.
http://www4.scoe.net/rti/programs.cfm?menuChoice=3	California	This Web site contains an archive of the Web cast training series that began March 16, 2006. Top educators from across the nation provided information on implementing a multi-tier RtI system aligned with NCLB that is designed to improve child academic and behavioral outcomes. Materials related to each presentation are available under the "Materials" tab.
http://www.cde.state.co.us/cdesped/RTI.asp	Colorado	Colorado is using a three-tiered, problem-solving approach. They have developed a variety of tools to assist schools in implementing the system. Their site offers a School Readiness for RTI for self-assessment as well as other helpful resources.
http://elc.idahotc.com/RTI_Home.aspx	Idaho - RtI Learning Community	Idaho's Results Based Model (RBM) initiative has evolved into a new format. The RtI Electronic Learning Community is a gathering point for parents and professionals to share information concerning RtI. The site supports a variety of documents and other resources, including discussion forums.
http://www.illinoisaspire.org/north/download.php?dID=44	Illinois	The Illinois Flexible Service Delivery Systems Entitlement Committee's Recommendations for Special Education Eligibility Standards document provides guidance to schools and districts on the use of RtI to make special education eligibility.
http://rtinebraska.unl.edu/what_rti_consortium.html	Nebraska	The Nebraska RtI Consortium was created based on a request from Nebraska Department of Education personnel and the Nebraska RtI Ad-Hoc Committee. The consortium's goal is to help promote successful use of RtI throughout the state.

http://www.ped.state.nm.us/div/acc.assess/assess/dl/misc/RtIManualFinalCombo2006%2012-06.pdf	New Mexico	New Mexico's December 2006 guidance document is called Response to Intervention: A Systematic Process to Increase Learning Outcomes for All Students . It addresses classroom and district level systems and progress monitoring and documentation.
http://www.iesystems.org	Ohio	The Ohio Integrated Systems Model for Academic and Behavior Supports (OISM) is a three tiered approach to comprehensive schoolwide prevention & intervention model that provides support systems, which address both academic and behavioral needs of all students.
http://www.ode.state.or.us/initiatives/idea/rti.aspx	Oregon	The Oregon Department of Education's Response to Intervention (RTI) Initiative and training program (OR-RTI) has been developed with the assistance of Tigard-Tualatin School District.
http://www.pde.state.pa.us/ To access training materials, please visit, http://www.pattan.net PA Training and Technical Assistance Network (PaTTAN)	Pennsylvania	Pennsylvania schools and districts implement RtI within broader school reform and school improvement efforts, as well as making learning disabilities determination.
http://www.schools.utah.gov	Utah	Utah's, Three Tier Model of Reading Instruction helps educators implement the three-tiered model for reading. The model is designed to provide research-based instruction and targeted interventions that lead to successful reading.
http://www.k12.wa.us/SpecialEd/RTI.aspx	Washington	Washington's Web site includes their Response to Intervention (RtI) Manual, a presentation on the Washington state model, and a variety of other supporting materials.